Amendments To Constitution Senate Work

Amendments to the constitution of the Student Senate were announced by Barbara Becker, member of the amendment committee, at the second meeting of the group on Oct. 6.

New amendments to the constitution as accepted consist of articles two, seven and nine. They are as follows:

Article II, Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the executive committee to appoint members to the faculty-student committees with the approval of the Senate.

Article VII, Sec. 6. There shall be a bulletin board committee of three members to take charge of putting up and removing all announcements.

Elections Committee Added

Article VII, Sec. 7. There shall be an elections committee, consisting of three members, to conduct the elections of the student body president, the vice-president, the Student Senate members, the TRUMPET and the Fortress officers.

Article IX, Sec. 1. Each class shall nominate for the Wartburg Student Senate twice as many candidates as the number of members as specified in Article IV, and shall submit this list to the election committee before Oct. 20.

Article IX, Sec. 2. The nominee for the president shall be determined by the Faculty-Student Council. All nominees shall be seniors with a minimum grade average of 2.5, and shall be chosen on the basis of scholarship, character and ability. All eligible candidates shall be listed on the primary ballot, and the three ballot shall be limited to five candidates.

Highest For President

Article IX, Sec. 3. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be the president; the second highest, vice-president.

Article IX, Sec. 4. The ballot for Wartburg Student Senate election will provide for "write in" notes.

Article IX, Sec. 5. The primary elections for the president shall be held on the first Monday in May, and all final elections shall be held on the following Friday.

Students' Talents To Be Presented At Kastle Kapers

Kastle Kapers, traditional Homecoming student talent show, will be presented again this year in a two-night showing on Oct. 30 and 31 in the college gymnasium, according to Rosella Dirksen, chairman of the committee.

George Roleder, sophomore, will serve as master of ceremonies during the evenings' performances. Nine nominations have already entered the contest.

Three prizes have been announced for the occasion, a $5 first prize, $3 for second place and $2 for third. A committee of seven will judge the skits. Three of the members are to be chosen from the faculty, two from the alumni and two from the student body.

First rehearsal of stunts has been scheduled for Oct. 27 and final rehearsal on Oct. 29.

Price of admission will be 15 cents, and advance sales will be made.

Many Wartburgers Among Theologians At ALC Seminary

Enrolled at the Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, this year are 79 students, 24 of whom are seniors, 16 middlers, 34 juniors, and five are serving congregations as interns. As many as 28 of the juniors took all or part of their pre-theological training at Wartburg college. Exactly 12 of the 13 districts of the American Lutheran Church are represented in the student body.

One new member has been added to the seminary staff. The Rev. M. L. Bomhoff is the new public relations director and director of the Development association.

Class Presidents Gather

Music Department To Play Host At Recital Tomorrow Afternoon

Wartburg's music department will play host to the public tomorrow afternoon at a recital in the studio of Old Main. Beginning at 4 p.m. the program will be presented by pupils of Mrs. Erma Bowman, vocal instructor; Dr. Robert Hieber, organ and piano instructor, and E. A. Odegard, instrumental instructor.

Paul Shook, freshman organist, will open the recital by playing "A Gothic Cathedral" by Pratella. Jane Aandal, sophomore soprano, will sing "O Savior, Hear Me," followed by a piano selection, Lasson's "Crescendo," played by Margaret Lynes.

From To Present Minuet.

Flutist Ruth Heldke, freshman, will present a minuet by Bizet, "L'Arlesienne," and Alton Schwandt, sophomore tenor, will sing "Shipmates of Mine" by Sanderson. Beethoven is on the program in the form of two piano selections "Contra Dance in C Minor," played by Lora Koepsell, sophomore, and "Sonata Pathetique (First Movement)", played by Lois Volkmann, sophomore. Tenor Orville Obermeyer, sophomore, will sing "The Blind Plowman" by Clarke.

Freshman Helen Fink's piano solo, "Two Valses Nobles" by Schubert, will be followed by a sousaphone solo by Arthur Meyer, freshman, "Jolly Farmer Goes to Town" by Schumann-Bell. Dorothy Dahlstrom, sophomore soprano, will sing two selections, "Solveig's Song" by Greig and "O No, John" by Thimen.

Duet Will Sing

Contralto Lois Landdeck, senior, and her voice tutor, Mrs. Erma Bowman, will combine their talents in "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Smart. Mrs. Bowman is a soprano.

"Sonata in G Major" by Hook will be the number played by the flute trio consisting of Ruth Heldke and Katherine Smith, both freshmen and George Roleder, sophomore.

Betty Kroll, senior, will present two organ selections, "Carillon" by Sawyer and "Prelude in G Major" by Bach. The program will close with a piano selection, "Valse" by Moszejs, played by Esther Blasius, junior.

Accompanists for the recital numbers will be Mrs. Bowman, Dr. Hieber, Esther Blasius and Lois Volkmann.

No Room Yet, Says College

Those eight Chinese students who last year requested admittance to Wartburg college this fall were informed this summer that because of the great number of applications and the limited room, the college could not accept them as yet.

Upon the registrar's asking for their high school transcripts, word from their principal stated that all the records of the high school were destroyed during the Japanese occupation in December, 1941. The college did, however, secure the grades of the eight students for the year 1947.

All these students were graduated in July, 1947. The principal of the high school reported, "They are all of good families and of excellent conduct and character, and are all of the type to be recommended for advanced studies at Wartburg college."

These students have now been informed that every effort is being made to accommodate them either during the second semester or at least during the school year 1948-1949.

President Appoints

Elaine Schlesinger, president of the Home Economics club, appointed the officers of the year at the first meeting of the organization, held recently in the Home Economic rooms.

Alice Deutschmen, freshmen, will be vice-president of the group, and Mildred Bieberstein, sophomore, will serve as secretary and treasurer. Reporting for the group will be Minney Martens, sophomore, while Jean Kapplinger, junior, serves as program chairman.

Executive Committee Meets

Regents Postpone Until November 6

Wartburg's Board of Regents has postponed its next meeting here from Oct. 29 to Nov. 5, according to President C. H. Becker.

Reasons given for the postponement were to give contractors more time to prepare bids for the new gymnasium and to accommodate Dr. H. L. Schuh, director of stewardship and finance of the American Lutheran church, and Dr. William L. Young, executive secretary of the Board of Christian Higher Education of the church. Both men must be in Dubuque on Nov. 4 and 5, and in this way can make both meetings in one trip.

Five Girls Candidates For Position Of Queen

Five Wartburg girls were nominated Wednesday as candidates for the position of Homecoming Queen. Results of the final election of the Queen yesterday will be held secret until her crowning at the football game on Saturday.

Girls nominated by the student body were Joan Sandrock, senior; Margaret Vorthman, junior; Edith Baehr, junior; Lois Jean Chesley, junior, and Barbara Becker, junior.

Majors In English.

Joan Sandrock, Dubuque, Iowa, is majoring in English and will teach. During her college years, Joan has been and still is active in choir, dramatics, TRUMPET and Fortress of which she is co-editor this year. The senior class elected her as secretary. For three years she played violin in a string ensemble. A member of Pi Sigma she was president in 1945. Pep club also claims Joan as a member.

Margaret Vorthmann, Hampton, Iowa, is a pre-medical student. She has been active in the dramatic and science club for two years, being president of Science club this year. Student Senate demands some of her time as does the vice-presidency of the Pep club.

Edith Future Parish Worker.

Edith Baehr, Berlin, Wis., is majoring in sociology and plans to go into parish work. The TRUMPET editor has been active the past two years; she is society editor this year. Edith has been in the choir since coming to Wartburg and is vice-president of the band where she plays the baritone. The Phebe's elected her editor of their paper "Epistle." She is an active member of Pep club, Student Senate, is assistant director in the play "Papa Is All" and Pi Sigma.

Lois Jean Chesley, Fond du lac, Wis., is an English major and plans to follow the teaching profession. Her activities include associate editorship of the TRUMPET, Dramatic and Pep clubs, Fortress staff member for two years, Future Teachers association and Pi Sigma.

Barbara Becker, Fond du lac, Wis., is majoring in social studies and plans to go into social work. Barbara has been a member of the German club and served as vice-president last year. Dramatics club has appealed to her as well as the Pep club of which she is president this year. Barbara is a Pi Sigma and a member of the Student Senate.

Wartburg's Walker Elected Treasurer Of Regional LSA

John Walker, treasurer of both the local Lutheran Student association and the sophomore class, was elected treasurer of the Iowa regional Lutheran Student association at a meeting at a Bible camp near Story City Oct. 17-19.

Walker, besides being a member of the regional executive committee, is automatically, by virtue of his new office, one of Iowa's representatives on the national LSA executive council.

Highlights of the week-end were the business meeting, the lectures centered around the theme "Jesus Christ Is Lord," and entertainment. Lectures were given by the Rev. Lael Westberg, Lutheran student pastor at the University of Minnesota.

At the business meeting the Wartburg LSA raised its pledge to the regional to $50. Hilmar Mostul of Luther college was elected new regional president. Other officers chosen are as follows:

Virgil Neuhaus, Iowa State college, vice-president; Elaine Krumwiede, Iowa State Teachers college, secretary; Cliff Olson, University of Iowa, mission secretary, and Ramona Swenson, Waldorf college, treasurer.

Wartburg college was represented by 16 students. Herman Diers, junior and local L.S.A. president, and George Roleder and Phyllis Vanell, both sophomores, were Wartburg's official delegates.

Instructor Returns

Miss Anna Elsa Jacobs, modern language instructor, returned to the Wartburg campus Wednesday after attending the funeral of her aunt in Pittsburgh.

Players Make Rules

Reading and accepting a new constitution were the main items of business at the regular Wartburg Players meeting Oct. 23.

Also discussed was the formation of an inner organization which will accept only those members who have received a definite number of points by acting or assisting in play productions.

Amvets Invite Vets

Wartburg student veterans of World War II are invited to a party at the Legion hall in Waverly Oct. 29, according to Vince Gardner, vice-commander of the local Amvets, sponsors of the event.

Westby Will Speak At Passavant Club

George Westby, Iowa Lutheran welfare director from Des Moines, will be the speaker at the monthly Passavant club meeting Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m., according to Jeanette Zemke, president of the organization.

Besides talking to the group, Mr. Westby will show movies dealing with welfare work.

Passavant is an organization of students interested in social work. Dorothy Voights, senior, is vice-president; Alice Bast, junior, secretary; Mary McAlpine, sophomore, treasurer, and Mrs. Lola Reppert, social work instructor, adviser.

Religion Subject Of Query

Why does religion play such an important part in collegiate life at Wartburg?

This is the question often asked by visitors and new students on the Wartburg campus who cannot understand the reason for the predominance of religion in all campus organizations. Their question can be answered rather simply by saying that Wartburg is a church college, and its main purpose is to help train Christians.

Dr. John Hiltner, professor of religion and philosophy, gave a summary of the best answers to this query in a convocation a few weeks ago. It might be well at this time to review some of his remarks.

"You students are not paying the full price for your education," said Dr. Hiltner in explaining the fact that Wartburg is subsidized by the American Lutheran church.

Because the church invests in Wartburg as much as, if not more than, any church-supported school receives, it expects some returns on its investment. It expects to gain Christian educated men and women, not mere tools of culture, not common professional people.

Wartburg attempts in its various activities and programs to attain a higher spiritual together with the intellectual level. It can do this only if a religious atmosphere permeates every phase of campus living.

Why does religion play such an important part in collegiate life at Wartburg? The answer is really quite simple —first things first.

Paper Needs Subscriptions

Like nearly all campus organizations, the TRUMPET sometimes finds itself in rather dire straits. This year its main difficulty is a financial one, caused by a shortage of off-campus subscriptions.

In past years, it seemed, the TRUMPET received fine responses from Wartburg students when it began its annual subscription campaign. Although the students had already subscribed through their purchase of activity tickets, they always gained subscriptions from people outside of school: alumni, parents, Waverly citizens and other friends. This year, however, has seen a tremendous and rather unexpected change. Few outside subscriptions have been turned in to the subscription manager.

The TRUMPET doesn't claim to be a paragon of journalistic excellence, but it does claim to be a good representative of Wartburg college. It attempts to do its best in presenting accurate news coverage to the Wartburg family, but if it can do this only if it has a certain amount of capital to back it, and in these times, everyone knows, prices are especially high.

Publishing a newspaper demands a large financial backing from advertisers and subscribers. The TRUMPET can take no more advertising, so the remainder of its needs must be supplied through subscriptions.

The future of the TRUMPET is in the hands of the students of Wartburg. One subscription gained by each student on the campus will be of immeasurable help.

T

Project Appears On Campus

One of the most interesting and worth-while Christian projects to be devised in recent years will be introduced to Wartburg students this week-end. It is the "Christ in Every Purse" project, by which Christians are trying to circulate purse-sized copies of Sallman's painting of the head of Christ.

Pamphlets explaining the "Christ in Every Purse" plan will become available to students at several points on the campus over the week-end. The pamphlets make clear the origin and purpose of the undertaking and explain how others can help in increasing the scope of the project.

C. H. Dunning, Indiana furniture dealer who started the project, bears most of the cost of the plan. He insists that anyone participating in the plan do so without any thought of material gain.

Any students or organizations interested in donating to or helping the "Christ in Every Purse" project may contact either Ken Priebe or the editor of the TRUMPET.

Dr. Haefner Writing Text

Now in the midst of collecting material for a textbook to be used by first-year Greek students is Dr. Alfred Haefner, who is head of Wartburg's Greek department and was recently promoted by the Board of Regents to a full professorship.

Dr. Haefner was born in Onawa, the son of the Lutheran pastor in that town. When he was six, his family moved to Muscatine where he attended grade school, parochial school and high school.

After completing his work in Muscatine, Dr. Haefner attended Wartburg college at Clinton, and it was there that he received his B. A. degree in 1925. He continued his education in the seminary in Dubuque for two years and then attended the University of Minnesota graduate school, taking Greek and history and completing work on his master's degree.

Served At Clinton.

Dr. Haefner served on the faculty at Clinton for one year before he received a research fellowship in the New Testament department at the University of Chicago. He made use of the scholarship for two years and then accepted the offer of the Wartburg Seminary to serve as librarian and German instructor at the seminary.

In the summer of 1935 Dr. Haefner returned to the University of Chicago in order to complete his work on his doctor's degree. His dissertation consisted of a collation and critical study of the 10th Century Scot Brown New Testament Manuscript, which had recently been acquired by the University of Chicago.

Dr. Haefner was then called to serve in the Greek department here at Wartburg. He has served there since and is now head of the department. In 1944 he completed his work on the seminary by correspondence and since then has been serving, upon the request of Dr. Herman Sieffes, president of the Iowa District of the American Lutheran church, at St. John's congregation located on a rural route outside of Waterloo.

For the last four years, Dr. Haefner has been serving on the Iowa District Parish Education committee. In that capacity he recently published a new form of parish questionnaire to be sent annually to all American Lutheran pastors in the district.

Author Of Paper.

Besides his doctor's and master's theses, Dr. Haefner has written an unpublished paper on one of the sources of the Book of Acts which he read at the 1941 national meeting of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis at the Union Theological seminary in New York. He has had an article published in the Anglica Theological Review and has made two appearances in the Luther Academy in 1944 and 1947, each time giving four exegetical lectures.

When asked what he likes best about teaching, Dr. Haefner replied:

"Teaching confronts us with people and, of course, people are always interesting, even when they are stupid. But the thrill of teaching comes from watching the tragic struggle between Desire and Reason for possession of the minds of my students; and, as a teacher, I am richly rewarded when I can be present to applaud the occasional triumph of the Logos."

But Dr. Haefner does not only teach and write books. His hobby-interest lies largely in printing, photography and little wood-carving.

Capacity Audience Receives Baritone Thomas L. Thomas

by Omar Bonderud

Waverly high school's auditorium held a capacity audience Wednesday as the Wartburg College Artist Series committee presented Thomas L. Thomas, famous Welsh-born baritone. Appearing on what may be considered a rather heavy program, Mr. Thomas rarely failed to hold his audience as he presented songs in several different languages.

Although Mr. Thomas interpreted the first three Italian numbers on his program creditably, it wasn't until he sang "La danza" by Rossini that he gained the confidence of his listeners. Here the audience found itself on familiar ground and the singer was allowed a chance to demonstrate more fully his vocal range.

During the second portion of his program Mr. Thomas became almost intimate with his audience as it became better acquainted with the lightness and variableness of his presentation. His encore, a rather humorous song giving the impressions of a five-year-old child after attending church for the first time, pleased the audience even more.

After the intermission Mr. Thomas sang four Welsh folk songs, all completely different but presented as only an artist can. Changing from the quietness of "Ar Hyd Y Nos (All Through the Night)" to the militance of "Rhyfelgyrch Gwyr Harlech (Men of Harlech)", he accomplished a great deal in giving his listeners a full picture of his abilities.

One of the most impressive numbers on the entire program was "Sweet Lil Jesus Boy" by MacGimsey.

Mr. Thomas reached his full glory in the three final encores. Humor was found in "An American Lullaby" and real rhythm in "Shadrach," a song which he first introduced. The audience's pause after his singing of Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer" and its subsequent applause was the greatest compliment any singer can receive.

Mr. Thomas maintained a constant contact with his audience, an act for which they were ever thankful. He is one of the most expressive singers ever to appear on the Wartburg stage.

SHOULD ANY of you students hear that Paul Kroeger was "burned up" in German class the other day, don't get the idea that he was perturbed about something Prof. Tillmanns said in class. The burning was caused by Paul's pipe which he had put in his back pocket without making sure it was no longer burning.

Block Boots To Eke Out Victory

With two minutes left to play and the Wartburg Knights trailing the Buena Vista Beavers 6 to 7, Guard Walt Block booted a place kick from the seven-yard line to enable the Knights to eke out a 9 to 7 victory at Storm Lake last Saturday.

It was the fourth time in as many years that the Orange and Black have turned back the Beavers on the gridiron. In the previous three years the Knights' margin of victory was by a single touchdown.

Last year the Beavers were the opponents at the Wartburg Homecoming and the Knights won the game in story-book fashion by scoring a touchdown with only seconds remaining. This year, the Knights were the guests at the Buena Vista Homecoming, and the Knights again pulled the game out of the fire in the closing moments of play.

Display Passing Attack.

Both teams tried to display their passing attack. The Knights attempted 19 and completed eight for 92 yards. The Beavers attempted 16, completed five for 57 yards.

Although neither team gained too much ground by rushing, the Knights rolled up 12 first downs, and the Beavers 11.

Halfback Don Castle held the burden of the ball carrying for Buena Vista with his long power drives. Don Fallon, who was switched to the fullback position, continued his stellar play, while "Dutch" Sauerbry went on standing out at end with his consistent defensive and offensive play. Doolittle and Elg Allen were also valuable for their passing. Walt Block, however, is considered the hero of the game with his timely, game-winning kick.

Show More Life.

After a scoreless half, the two teams began to show a bit more life. Fallon recovered a Beaver fumble on the Buena Vista 35-yard line. Doolittle, Nutter and Fallon combined to gain a first down to put the ball on the 21. Doolittle then flipped a pass intended for Sauerbry.

A Beaver defensive man leaped into the air to bat the ball down. However, "Dutch" was there to catch the ball before it hit the ground and ambled over the goal line for the score. Block's kick for the extra point failed.

Buena Vista then rolled off five consecutive first downs to put the ball on the Wartburg three-yard line. The Knights put on a gallant goal line stand and took over on downs. Bahls kicked, and the Beavers came roaring back. Castle moved the ball to the five, and three plays later, he smashed over for a score. Glenn Thielen converted, and the Beavers led 7 to 6.

Make Six First Downs.

Although the Knights rolled up first downs in the final quarter, they were unable to pay dirt, and it appeared as if the game would end in favor of the Beavers. With the game drawing to a close, the Knights were on the Buena Vista five. Fallon lost two yards, a Doolittle pass intended for Sauerbry was no good, Nutter gained a yard, and then, on fourth down Block booted the game-winning score.

Wartburg meets the Simpson Redmen tonight at Indianola in another Iowa conference tilt. The Redmen are considered to be at least two touchdowns better than Buena Vista.

As competition stiffens, a few of Wartburg's injured will return to bolster the lineup. Don Bergman, who missed the first half of the schedule, is expected to strengthen the line when he returns to the tackle slot. Bill Hughes will be ready for full time duty, and Junior Dierks, who has also been on the injury list, will strengthen the quarterback position.

INSOMNIA VICTIMS — Should there be any fellows on the campus who are suffering from lack of sleep, just contact Diers & Kamper, Inc. They will reveal to you that the cause is just that you don't know anything special to do for that special girl whom you will take to the Homecoming banquet. The surest cure for this condition is to order a corsage for her from Herman Diers or Richard Kamper, agents for selling "corsage a la scent."

Wartburg Coaches Speak At Convo On Athletic Plans

Athletic department was in charge of convocation on Tuesday, Oct. 21. Principle speakers were Miss Mildred Sorna, women's physical education instructor; Dr. Elmer Hertel, former Wartburg football coach, Melvin Nelson, head football and wrestling coach, and Axel Bundgaard, Wartburg athletic director and basketball coach.

Practical demonstrations and a lecture by Miss Sorna outlined the principles of physical education for the group.

Dr. Hertel introduced the other speakers and gave an introductory explanation of Wartburg's association with the Iowa Inter-collegiate Athletic conference.

Men's physical education program and an explanation regarding Wartburg's major in physical education were presented by Mr. Bungaard.

Convocation was concluded by Coach Nelson, who commented on the football team and explained tentative plans for participation in intercollegiate wrestling.

Looking 'Em Over

Word is getting around that if these columnists predict against you Knights, you just can't lose. That proved to be the case at Buena Vista, in the most outstanding game for the Knights thus far. The Beavers were all set for a Homecoming victory. At the half the score was 0-0. The Knights drew first blood shortly after the second half started, when Sauerbry refused to drop a pass from Doolittle that was partly blocked. The Beavers scored soon after, and held a one-point lead until Walt Block split the uprights with a field goal with less than two minutes remaining in the game.

Mark Klatt missed the bus early Saturday morning, but he was determined to be on hand for the game. After hitch-hiking to Storm Lake, he turned in a good game as a substitute at an end position.

Wartburg's pass defense clicked in this game, the Beavers completing only 4 of 13 attempted passes. Upper Iowa, a future foe, depends chiefly on passing for offense. If the Knights stop the passing of the Peacocks as they did the Beavers, they will stop the Peacocks.

Predictions

This week's $64 question is, "Can the Knights add to their long string of Homecoming victories?" A record crowd of alumni will be on hand to witness a thrilling game. The Norsemen are a good team, but no better than Buena Vista. The Wartburg fans will not be disappointed, for the Knights will not permit the Norsemen to spoil their Homecoming festivities.

Around The Conference

As each week passes by, one gets a better idea of what the final standings in the Iowa conference for 1947 will be. Some teams have been winning consistently, some losing consistently, and a few, like Wartburg and Simpson, have yet to face the stronger teams. Within the next two weeks, the conference champ should be quite evident.

As expected, last year's co-champs, Upper Iowa and Central, are again the leading contenders for the title. Over the week-end of Oct. 18 Upper Iowa took a 13-0 decision from Luther, which virtually puts it out of the running. Dubuque U. took a 27-7 pasting from Central's Dutchmen, to fall from the ranks of the undefeated. With these two teams at the top of the standings, it appears that only Wartburg and Simpson have a chance to halt their drive to the championship, for the rest of the conference teams seem to be relegated to the cellar positions.

Dr. Seegers Will Be Speaker At Annual Homecoming Banquet

Dr. Walter H. Seegers, former student of Wartburg and present head of the physiology department at Wayne university in Detroit, will speak on "The Function and Structure of the Little College" at the Homecoming banquet to be held in St. Paul's parish hall Nov. 1 at 6:30 p.m.

The Rev. Sigmund Sandrock, pastor at Richland Center, Wis., will act as toastmaster for the occasion. Several musical numbers have also been scheduled for the program.

Prizes for the best rooms at open house, the best floats and the best Kastle Kapers skits will be awarded at the banquet festivities, and the Homecoming queen will hold sway over all activities.

Eleanor Stubenvoll, chairman of the banquet committee, stated that "the committee has been working hard to make the banquet one of long remembrance."

Serving under her as sub-chairman are Mel Bergin, prexram; Barbara Becker, decorations; Clarence Brauer, ushers; Harold Meyers, tickets and publicity, and Connie Schumacher, menu.

According to Meyer, tickets for the banquet are now on sale to the alumni. After the alumni have reached their quota, the tickets will be sold to students who would like to purchase them. Price of the ticket has remained at $1.25.

Dr. Seegers, a native of Iowa, has made a great contribution to the medical field of science in that he and his associates were the first to find successful methods of production of thrombin and also the first to show it can practically be used in clinics to stop bleeding in human beings.

Author of over 50 pamphlets, Dr. Seegers holds a respected position in scientific circles today. His interests lie not only in science but also in education as a whole.

To Boost Fund

Greater Wartburg Memorial Chapel fund will be boosted at the Homecoming church services Sunday, Nov. 1, according to Kenneth Priebe, chairman of the Homecoming church committee.

Homecoming church committee will distribute envelopes among students next week to be collected at the Homecoming services.

Costumes Tickets At Party Tonight

Costumes of dungarees and checkered shirts for the fellows and flared skirts for the girls will be the only tickets necessary for admission to the Music Appreciation club party to be held tonight in the gymnasium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Alton Schwandt, club president, said there will be a program of about 40 minutes to start off the evening. This will be followed by folk dancing and refreshments.

All members and prospective members are invited, said Schwandt.

Scientists Meet

Science club, under the direction of Paul Scherb, biology instructor at Wartburg, met in convocation hall on Thursday, Oct. 16, where Mr. Scherb presented slides and spoke on the subject "Plants of Iowa."

Fads and Fashions

By Edie

Gone are the days when a sweater was just a sweater, something simple and unadorned to keep you warm and to serve as a background only for a gay plaid skirt or jacket. Sweaters have achieved the costume look for fall, so have sweaters. Your sweaters are now designed to peek up a suit or make a guy ensemble teamed with one of the new, longer skirts.

Sleek, long-sleeved, torso-hugging sweaters have replaced the baggy pullover. These new torso sweaters boast gay stripes racing across the shoulders, neat little turnover collars and clever manipulating of ribbed effect.

Pullovers appear in new and wonderful colors—greys to match your flannel suit, rich mahogany brown, pinks with a definite mauve cast or brilliant coral red. They boast neat little collars with latticed heart details, intricate embroidered monograms set in triangles or cable knit yokes caught with delicate embroidery. Sweaters, this season, are costumes in themselves.

Not only are sweaters popular for wear with skirts but so are blouses. Tops with all the girls this fall is a white blouse with a colored bow at the neckline.

The same style-sweet blouse with its distinctive leaf motif touched with silver beads goes to parties with a starkly simple black moire skirt, or romance with a long white skirt.

Always popular on the campus is a plain, tailored, long-sleeved, white blouse. It's practical and can be worn for dress or sport wear. How about a plaid rayon blouse with a white collar? It will add color to your wardrobe and dress up your skirt.

Our vote for one of the lovelies at recent events goes to Margaret Vorthmann, who appeared at the tea Sunday in a lovely, black, mossy crepe dress complete with peg styled skirt and staid sleeves. Mrs. L. W. Brewster stood out among faculty women in a very charming black crepe dress effectively trimmed with gold sequence.

For Girls Only—Would you like to have the very best in corsages when you attend the Homecoming banquet Do you prefer corsages that will not start to wilt by the Homecoming services on Sunday morning? Would you like a corsage that will make all the other girls jealous? Then be sure to have that "certain guy" contact Diers & Kamper, Inc., with national headquarters in room 119, Grossmann hall.

College Prepares For Reformation

Reformation day services will be held in St. Paul's church on Friday, Oct. 31, beginning at 10 a.m.

The Rev. August J. Engelbrecht, professor of New Testament at the Wartburg Seminary, will deliver the sermon.

Appropriate choral music will be rendered by the Wartburg choir directed by Dr. Edwin Liemohn.

Attends Convention

Miss Margaret Wolff, English and journalism instructor, left Thursday morning, Oct. 23, for a three-day convention of the Associated Collegiate Press at Minneapolis, Minn.

Features of the convention will be lectures and discussion groups on newspaper and magazine writing and editing.
